

Survey Magnet Means Individual Thought

By Survey Magnet

Dated: Oct 20, 2009

In a recent discussion about Survey Magnet co-owner Marcus revealed his thoughts on why the site is so great.

Here is an excerpt from that discussion:

"How many times in a day do you express your deepest opinions and desires?

If you answer this question truthfully then you'll realize something. The opinions that you have are barely your own. Think about it...our opinions have been replaced with those of the collective. Think of the last time you were presented just the FACTS of a situation with no hint of someone else's opinion? When is the last time you were given a situation and allowed to think through it, make a decision, and defend your stance with no fear of recoil or consequence?

The opportunity to truly express yourself doesn't come along often. At Survey Magnet we are in tune with this need. We present the opportunity to meet that need every day."

Point your browser to <http://www.surveymagnet.com> to express your freedom of speech.

###

Surveymagnet.com is your one stop shop of real-time interactive opinions on the internet. The site serves to eliminate the mystery around "polls" and "surveys" that are often quoted in TV and radio broadcasts.

Category	Business, Entertainment
Tags	opinion, freedom of speech, survey magnet
Email	Click to email author
Phone	404-409-7212
State/Province	Georgia
Zip	30080
Country	United States